

KLAN DENIES GOVERNOR'S INDICTMENT

DONAHEY, COX, WILLIS, FESS ON STAND TODAY

Array Of Prominent Politicians Imposing Part Of Auerbach Liquor Trial At Cleveland This Afternoon.

Cleveland, Sept. 21.—Gorman Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, Democratic candidate for president in 1920, took the stand as a defense character witness when the conspiracy trial of four prominent Ohioans was resumed in United States district court here today.

Cox is to be followed on the stand by Senators Frank B. Willis and Simon D. Fess and Governor A. V. Donahay. With former Governor James E. Campbell, who testified late yesterday, the list of witnesses will include three former governors, the present chief executive and both United States senators.

A Frank Counts, third of four defendants to take the witness stand in the conspiracy trial now in progress here before Federal Judge D. C. Weston, continued to testify in his own defense today by flatly denying and characterizing as "absolutely untrue" the testimony presented by various government witnesses.

Fred Counts, brother of A. Frank Counts and formerly federal prohibition agent of Cleveland, is the only defendant who has not appeared as a witness for the defense. He is expected to testify later today.

The others under indictment are Samuel A. Hoskins, politician and former chairman of the state civil service commission, and Joseph Shearer, formerly federal prohibition director of Ohio.

Frank Counts denied that he ever received a cent from Louis Auerbach for "protection" to the Auerbach "Barber Supply" company, and that he ever took up with his brother as federal prohibition agent any matters relating to clients charged with violating the liquor laws.

Lisbon, Sept. 21.—The roller coaster detour on the Lisbon-East Liverpool rd. is in very bad condition as a result of the heavy rains of Wednesday and Thursday. Farmers who reside along the roadway are busily engaged in pulling cars from the ditches and cleaning up blockades occasioned by stalled autos.

At one time six cars were stalled near the C. C. Van Poyssan farm. Surface of the road is slippery and motorists who are required to turn out to a low other cars to pass are almost certain to be ditched in hubbub mud.

A large number of persons warned of the condition of the detour parked their cars at the Andrew McGee farm at Gilmore stop and completed their journey to Lisbon by trolley.

The contractor on the improvement has all the brick laid and rolled, but refuses to allow traffic to proceed till the asphalt binder is in place. This requires dry weather.

Lisbon Mayor Hands Out $100 Booze Fine

Lisbon, Sept. 21.—W. F. Goller of Youngstown, was fined $100 and costs by Mayor Ben Thursday night on a charge of possessing liquor. He had come here with a party of friends and officers found liquor in his car when they searched it. He left his car here and returned to Youngstown to get the money. The police are holding the car a security until he returns.

Revolution Cause Of High Living In Spain Say Papers

Madrid, Sept. 21.—The cost of living has begun to rise in Spain since the revolution and petitions for relief were directed to the government today by newspapers.

Sugar, potatoes and bread are especially high in the capital and throughout Andalusia. Bakers are announcing another increase.

The police have arrested the president of the Barcelona Food Syndicate because he came to Madrid without giving an explanation for the journey. Valceta has authorized military intervention in the municipal administration.

The directory has ordered re-examination of a sick and wounded soldier on furlough in Spain. Those found to be able-bodied will be sent up to the front in Morocco for field service.

The miners' union, sitting at Bilbao, voted to end their strike.

Gen. Primo Rivera, head of the ruling conference with the president of the North railway. The government is seeking to quell unrest among the railway employees and better the service.

Former Premier Alhucemas has issued another statement to the press, denying a report that the directory had forbidden him to return to Madrid.

Gen. Aizpuri, the new high commissioner to Morocco, held his final meeting with the directory today. He planned to leave for Melilla last night but postponed his trip 24 hours.

Delay Installation Of Park Fountain

The new drinking fountain recently purchased for Centennial park will not be installed until early next year. It was decided Thursday night. Service Director J. B. Bristol will have the foundation made but because of the lateness of the park season it was decided not to install the fountain now.

This fountain was purchased with funds contributed by the Civic Improvement committee and the Retail Merchants Board of the Chamber of Commerce, each organization giving an equal amount.

Nearly 50 per cent of all children of elementary grade age of this country attend public school.

TWO CHILDREN ARE SLIGHTLY INJURED AS AUTO HITS THEM

Five School Children Run Into Path Of Machine Near School.

DRIVER ABSOLVED FROM ANY BLAME

Votaw Runs Car Into Tree To Avoid Injuring Students.

Two of a group of five children were slightly injured when struck by an automobile driven by E. G. Votaw as he was driving west in McKinley ave. at 1 p. m. Thursday.

Running out from behind a machine going east the group of children scattering across the street ran directly into the path of Votaw's machine.

Votaw is said to have been driving at a rate of about 15 miles an hour when the accident occurred. The children running diagonally across the street toward the school building are believed not to have seen the Votaw car as they ran directly in front of it.

Votaw, in order to avoid a serious accident, steered his car into a big tree near the Chalfant residence. Two of the school girls were knocked to the ground. Votaw sustained a light injury from the impact when the machine crashed into the tree and the car was slightly damaged.

Mrs. Frank Spindel, driving back of Votaw stopped and placed one of the girls in her car and driving to the Salem City hospital. Examination showed that she was bruised and that she was suffering from a bump on the back of the head. The second girl not injured, was able to continue on her way to school.

Witnesses of the accident absolved Votaw from any blame in the affair and commended him for his quick action in steering his car into the tree so as not to injure the children.

Capt.-Gen. Primo Rivera Spain's Dictator.

Capt. Gen. Primo Rivera

Capt. Primo Rivera, the Marquis de Estella, who commanded the Spanish troops in Barcelona, has been appointed dictator of Spain as a result of the mutiny of the Spanish army and the overthrow of the cabinet. He has started widespread reforms.

Boy, Page Luther Burbank

A freak of nature has been found by Dr. Guilford of Winona, who sent to The News office a tomato out of the top of which was growing a small red cucumber, with perfect cucumber markings. This vegetable was grown at Winona and the tomato and cucumber vines were planted side by side.

TOTAL OF $2,821.59 RAISED IN SALEM FOR JAP SUFFERERS

Salem Subscribes 41 Per Cent Over Amount Asked By Red Cross.

A 41 per cent over subscription of her allotted quota of $2,000 was Salem's response to the appeal of the American Red Cross for funds in aid of the sufferers in the Japanese earthquake. A final checkup, made today by the local disaster relief committee, headed by D. B. McCune as chairman, showed that a total of $2,821.59 had been raised in Salem and vicinity.

When the active solicitation of funds was ended by the committee on Wednesday of last week, a total of $2,714.74 had been reported. Additional contributions, made voluntarily since that time, brought the total up to $2,821.59. Included in the later contributions as one of $50 from Salem Lodge, No. 285, B. P. O. Elks.

The entire amount has been paid in and turned over to B. L. Flick, treasurer of Salem chapter, Red Cross. Early last week Mr. Flick forwarded a check for $2,000 to National Red Cross headquarters at Washington, covering Salem's designated quota. The balance of $821.59 will be forwarded to Washington by Mr. Flick this week.

SALEM CHAPTER COMPLETES QUOTA

Children's Garments Made And Sent To Red Cross For Insular Needy.

A few months ago Salem chapter, American Red Cross, received its quota for children's garments from the American Red Cross Washington division. The garments have been completed and the quota was shipped by Mrs. Alice Pow, Broadway, chairman of this work.

In a letter sent out by the Washington division asking for this quota it was stated that "the American Red Cross had officially withdrawn from the emergency in Greece June 30, and that the needs of our insular dependencies, Porto Rico, Virgin Islands, Dominican Republic, Haiti and Canal Zone, which have been equally great with those of Europe and which of necessity have not had much attention, are urgently brought before us."

Athletes Leave For Iowa State College

Two of Salem's ex-high star athletes and football stars will leave Salem Friday night for Ames College, Iowa. They are Chris Roessler and Dan Willman.

Especially interested are Saemites in the activities of Chris Roessler, one of the greatest athletes to ever graduate from Salem high. Sam Willman, brother of Dan, is now head athlete coach at Ames college. Roessler will take a course in mechanical engineering.

LEETONIA MAYOR FINES MAN $500 ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Mayor, Marshal And Deputy Raid Rich Home And Find Liquor.

OFFICERS SWOOP DOWN SUDDENLY

Another Liquor Toter Is Arrested On Street With Booze.

Henry Rich, of Leetonia, was fined $500 and costs on a charge of possessing liquor, and George Melish is charged with transportation and possessing liquor as the result of a liquor raid conducted by Leetonia officers shortly after midnight Thursday.

The Rich home in which a barrel of corn whisky was found, following the raid on it by Mayor William Hoffman, Marshal Sullivan and Deputy William Groner, had been under suspicion by the officers for some time.

Hoffman and Sullivan caught Melish coming out of the Rich home on Main st. with a sack over his shoulders. Upon searching him they found two gallon jugs, two one-half gallon jugs and two hot water bottles filled with corn whisky. Melish was arrested and is awaiting trial on a charge of transporting and possessing liquor.

The two officers then sent for Deputy Groner and the three men searched the Rich home, finding the barrel of corn whisky. Whether Rich sold the corn whisky to Melish has not been proven. No stills were found it is said.

Begin Evacuation Of Corfu Friday

London, Sept. 21.—Preliminary steps for evacuation of Corfu were begun by the Italians today, said a Central News dispatch from Athens. Artillery brigades were embarked upon Italian transports and munitions were removed to the wharves for shipment.

Boston Heiress Elopes With Detroit Youth.

Miss Virginia Fredericks Stanley, immensely wealthy Boston heiress and society girl, has eloped to Sandwich, Mass., and has been married to William John Scripps, the 17-year-old son of a Detroit (Mich.) millionaire. The date of the wedding was Friday.

At midnight Thursday came another drop in the price of gasoline in Salem, when the Standard Oil company reduced their price per gallon a cent and a half to 19 cents.

The independent companies immediately followed suit and were Friday selling gas at 19 cents.

ISSUE IS—MOB OR STATE RULE SAYS WALTON

Governor Hands In First Evidence To Military Court; Klan Objects Strongly To Walton's Charges.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 21.—Bitter denial of Gov. Walton's latest indictment against the Ku Klux Klan was expressed by the Oklahoma realm of the Klan here today.

N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan in Oklahoma, who is now charged with taking personal part in flogging parties characterized the charge as "another framed attempt at libel and character assassination."

Gov. Walton's latest sensational charges were contained in a transcript of the first evidence taken by the military board now in session in Oklahoma City conducting an investigation of the alleged domination of the Klan in the city and county.

The transcript of evidence was accompanied by a statement by the governor in which he said the necessary steps will be placed in the hands of every man in Oklahoma who is opposed to the Klan.

The high lights in the testimony, as revealed in the evidence in military court were:

Accuse Grand Dragon
That N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan in Oklahoma, according to the testimony of Dr. A. A. Maupin, a local dentist and member of the Klan, was "a member of a self-constituted squad of whippers."

That George W. Clark, district judge of Oklahoma county; J. K. Wright, county attorney, and Thomas Cavanaugh, county sheriff here, are now, or were, members of the Ku Klux Klan according to their own testimony before the board. Judge Clark, although admitting he joined the Klan a year ago last May, insisted he did not consider himself a klanman now.

That according to the testimony of Dr. Maupin the telephone lines in Oklahoma City were frequently tapped by the Ku Klux Klan.

In making public the testimony, Gov. Walton prefaced the transcript of evidence with the evidence that Jewett and "his invisible empire shall not pass in this state."

"If necessary," the governor declared, "I shall arm every man in the state who is opposed to the Ku Klux Klan."

Sovereignty Is Issue
Gov. Walton reiterated today that the issue is now between "the sovereignty of Oklahoma and the rule of the invisible empire." He said as far as he is concerned he "has crossed the rubicon" and it is a fight to the finish.

He called on the people who believe in a representative form of government to aid him financially to send remittances direct to Mrs. Aldrich Blake, wife of his chief counselor.

Leader Warns Governor
Wesley E. Dinsey of Muskogee, a house leader, warned Gov. Walton not to molest the legislators when they assemble asserting that any individual who makes an attempt to do so will be "acting at his peril."

The militant governor's reply to the aroused legislators is the strengthening of the military force in Oklahoma City, a detachment of troops having just arrived from Kingfisher. The governor said he would deal with those who are trying to hold a "rump convention" to oust him from office in a new statement today—chapter two in the "story of Oklahoma City."

YOUTH ARRESTED ON THEFT CHARGE

Just Returned From World Trip Officers Hold Salem Youth For Larceny.

J. J. Jackson, a former Salem youth was taken into custody by Chief of Police Thompson at 11 a. m. Friday, having been notified that Jackson is wanted in Alliance on a charge of larceny.

Learning that Jackson was in town, Chief Thompson immediately called at his home likely to be visited by Jackson and was soon advised that the young man in question was at a Main st. poolroom. He was taken to the city jail where he will await the arrival of Alliance officials who will take him to that city for trial.

Jackson, who with Charles Fadden of Oregon, had just returned from a four-year trip around the world, stopping in Alliance enroute to Salem.

Hearty Response Given Praise By Scout Executive

"Response is hearty and encouraging," says Regional Executive Joseph M. Butcher, after a survey of the towns concerned in the present campaign for a First Class Council, Boy Scouts of America.

When approached yesterday, Rev. P. W. McCaulay, of Lisbon, said, "Why of course, we can put it across here and we are going to do it."

Leetonia and Columbiana business and clubmen welcomed the project, urging the workers to return and present the plans to their clubs.

Salem business men are freely volunteering their services as canvassers, feeling as some have expressed, "Salem cannot afford to have scouting handicapped. We have laid a splendid foundation and must now build an appropriate superstructure. As a business proposition scouting pays big dividends to the community when developed."

This week is being devoted to contacts with clubs and individuals in the several towns, enlistment of workers for the financial campaign to follow, and the distribution of educational matter regarding the enlarged program to be made possible under a First Class Council.

Mr. Butcher will return first week in October for the final drive and completion of organization, which will place Salem and vicinity in the front rank with the large cities.

"With scouting on the high plane that it now occupies here," said Mr. Butcher, "there is no reason why this area should not show a wonderful development for there is an exceptional field here."

Local Companies Reduce Gas Price
At midnight Thursday came another drop in the price of gasoline in Salem, when the Standard Oil company reduced their price per gallon a cent and a half to 19 cents.

The independent companies immediately followed suit and were Friday selling gas at 19 cents.

MANY KILLED IN SOFIA BATTLE OF REDS AND POLICE

Communists Clash With Military Police In Sofia Streets.

Athens, Sept. 21.—Many persons were killed and wounded in a clash between rebellious Bulgarian reds and police at Sofia, according to a report received here by way of Salonika. Bulgarian cavalry charged the crowd with drawn sabres.

Some of the wounded are believed to have died from stab wounds and beatings administered by the police. A policeman was killed by a bomb explosion. The Bulgarian government is taking drastic measures to quell the revolutionary movement.

Resistance by the rebellious reds is particularly strong in the Plevna district in northern Bulgaria.

Interruption of communications and censorship imposed by the Bulgarian government is making it difficult to obtain information direct from Sofia. All messages show evidences of censorship.

Salem Man, Sentenced To Pen, Is To Be Freed

C. C. Phillips of Salem, charged with embezzlement of the funds of a fraternal order in this city, was sentenced this morning after a plea of guilty to a term of one to 19 years in the Ohio penitentiary and assessed the costs of the action.

Judge Moore, however, suspended the sentence on good behavior on the part of Phillips but remanded him to jail until the costs are paid.

Our Navy In Action

THE part played by our navy in the Japanese disaster must gratify every American. It is not merely a story of the gallantry to be expected from our blue-jackets, but it is one of the promptest and most effective action. We understand that Admiral Anderson in command of the Asiatic Squadron, acted immediately upon receiving the news of the earthquake, not waiting for orders from Washington. That saved time when every hour meant lives saved. The nation wants its representatives to be men who will act like that.

When our ships arrived—destroyers by name, saviors by mission—they they acted in the same spirit. Where the need was greatest they went regardless of conditions, and their aid was badly wanted. They did not stand on ceremony and they would not be blocked by Japanese official orders.

The report on the conduct of Japanese naval and other authorities is not pleasant reading. It presents a very peculiar background against which to set against the prompt and sincere feeling which is expressing itself so practically in faraway America at this time.

We have no wish to exaggerate the significance of this ungracious and unfriendly conduct. A great deal is to be overlooked in such a crisis. Private actions, outbursts of violence, the excesses of human nature shaken to the core and deprived of all normal inhibitions and restraints, may be taken for granted, and certainly not harbored against any people stricken as were the Japanese. But the orders of the Japanese naval authorities to American ships sent on an errand of humanity and friendship are not easy to overlook. They are deliberate and official.

Do they represent the real spirit of the naval and military classes which have so much to do with the spirit and policy of Japan? We cannot help noting the incident in which Japanese destroyers took off the body of a prince of the empire, but refused to take with it seriously wounded Japanese and foreigners. It suggests a difference of standards and standards from our own. We must afford to be disappointed.

We Americans assume that all people are like ourselves. It is a mistake which we cannot safely make in any case, and especially, perhaps, not in that of the Japanese. Review recent events, and we find America making all the important concessions. The Washington conference was the most valuable insurance policy for Japan that a nation ever acquired, and Japan paid virtually nothing for it. When we show our friendship and good intention to another nation in danger or need, it by no means follows that it will be appreciative or reciprocated.

The Cost Of Wheat

NOTHING is more difficult—nor more apt to be misleading—than an attempt to establish a uniform production cost of wheat. A recent report of the farm management department of the North Dakota Agricultural college illustrates the point. The report is based on carefully compiled returns from 122 farms in ten counties. It shows the average wheat production cost to be $1.46 per bushel. With wheat selling at a dollar or under, it is obvious the North Dakota grower is in a bad way, and many think the wheat grower the country over must be in the same boat as regards cost and sales ratio. But the $1.46 per bushel average cost is based on a total cost per acre of $12.23 and an average production per acre of 8.2 bushels.

In Michigan last year the average per acre of winter wheat was 14 bushels, with some districts running as high as 30 bushels, and of spring wheat 24.5 bushels. The ten-year winter wheat average in Michigan was 18.7 bushels. If per acre cost in Michigan was the same as in North Dakota, this would mean a bushel cost of $7.3 cents for winter wheat and a ten-year average cost of 70.3 cents.

The production per acre is an exceedingly important factor in determining returns. Michigan's 14 bushels last year, with $7.3 cents as the cost, would have made a dollar look fairly respectable, but with only 8.2 bushels and a $1.46 cost average North Dakota would soon go hopelessly broke. The basic fault out there is not in dollar wheat, but in any farmer trying to make 8.2 bushel land pay. The remedy appears to be not in more government aid but in the 8.2 bushel farmer trying something else.

In Michigan the farmers' diversity and get along better. North Dakota and some of the other states have been one-croppers, and if anything goes wrong from sowing to selling there is sure to be disaster.

20 YEARS AGO

(Issue of Sept. 21, 1902)

Columbus—State School Commissioner L. D. Bonebrake, says wages of school teachers are too low. He proposes to frame a bill which he will offer in the next legislature, fixing a standard of wages commensurate with the service teachers give.

Cleveland—Senator M. A. Hanna denies the report that he is to withdraw from the chairmanship of the Republican national committee on account of ill health.

Lisbon—The telephone controversy promises to assume a new and interesting phase here, which may compel the members of the local business association to have two phones in their places of business.

Mary Lilliam, wife of Abram Callidine, died at 1 a. m. Monday. She had been ill for four years of consumption. Besides her husband she is survived by her daughter, Bessie Canille.

YOUR FAMILY DOCTOR

You have been feeling below par, no interest in your work, your meals, or even life itself.

The logical thing to do was to go to your physician. After examining you, he states quite frankly and cheerfully that you are all right, there is no organic trouble and that you had excellent advice for the majority of people, because, if nearly normal, they will be reassured and get back to life and business, with a new enthusiasm.

But this isn't enough for a great many people. The knowledge that there is no organic trouble is not sufficient for them. It does not stimulate interest in work or life with them.

What's the matter? Well, they simply have not told their doctor the whole story. What about the meals they eat, the sleepless nights, that big worry that they are carrying around with them, that fear of physical or financial failure. Never a word of this to their doctor. Had they unburdened themselves completely, as to their nearest and dearest friend, they would have given their doctor something to work on. Something that he understands almost as well as he does the body itself.

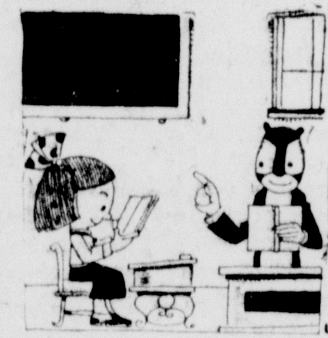

This is the age of specialists, and they have certainly made a place for themselves by their advanced knowledge and skill, but the family physician is really a more important personage than he ever was, because of his greatly increased general knowledge of medicine, and general knowledge also of man and his relation to life.

So, when you go to your family physician for an overhauling, try to remember that he knows you and your family perhaps better than any one else could. And further tell him everything, as you would to your minister or priest.

This gives him every chance to help you. Don't let yourself get down too far before you see him.

Wire It Right In the Beginning

Homebuilders! Property Owners! Landlords and Architects! Read this article from the American Builder Magazine.

"Wiring a house in the most complete manner possible is not expensive. It seldom exceeds five per cent of the cost of building. It is the greatest labor saver that a home can have and the cheapest of all permanent comfort equipment of a home. It costs less than plumbing and heating, and when it becomes as thoroughly understood as plumbing and heating it will be as carefully planned."

You're not going to be satisfied having that new house wired for one center fixture in each room. That's only the beginning. What about decorative little side wall brackets you may want them sometime. Where will you attach your lamps? And the toaster? And the vacuum cleaner? And the iron and the washer? And the curling iron?

SEE THAT YOUR WIRING CONTRACTOR PROVIDES "CONVENIENT OUTLETS" IN EVERY ROOM, ON PORCHES, AND IN THE LAUNDRY. Have this done when the house is first wired and save money! Our Lighting Engineer will gladly confer with you or your architect.

Finding Your Suit in a Store Is Like Finding Your Word in the Dictionary

In words, you at least have to have an idea how the word is spelled—and in clothes you at least have to go to the store that has your suit in stock before you can stalk in and claim it.

All stores like to talk about variety—but here's one that knows what it is talking about.

For example—suppose you are looking for a fall suit and wear a size 38—

At 67 Main St. it would take two hours to view and go over what we have to show in that size alone. Seeing is believing—

By and with Leah Baird

Senator Capper's bill for uniform marriage and divorce laws has made the whole question a theme of national discussion. So the picture is timely.

The story is thrilling, fascinating and clean.

A shipwreck, a terrific tornado, a struggle with a man-eating shark, the eruption of Mt. Pelee, all add to the attraction of the picture.

SOCIETY

Farewell Reception

One hundred women of the M. E. church attended the farewell reception given for Mrs. H. H. Scott by the Women's Organizations of the church Wednesday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Mary Pine presided.

A musical program was offered composed of a piano solo by Mrs. Frank Stodt, and vocal solos by Mrs. L. T. Brennan, William Wilson and Mrs. Charles Cornwall.

As a token of esteem, and in appreciation of her work in the organization, Mrs. Scott was presented a beautiful electric lamp. Mrs. C. T. Kirk, bride made the presentation speech. Mrs. Scott responded in well chosen words.

Mrs. Scott is the wife of Dr. Scott, who has been transferred from this pastorate to the Youngstown Belmont church.

Bethlehem Class

As guests of Mrs. S. J. Broomall, members of the Bethlehem class of the M. E. church met Thursday afternoon at her home, Negarden st. A business session was followed by a social program. A lunch served by the hostess was a pleasing conclusion to the afternoon.

The members will meet again in four weeks at the church parlors for a covered dish dinner. This will be the annual dollar day meeting.

Baptist Missionary Society

The annual picnic of the Missionary society of the First Baptist church of a very enjoyable event of Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Eddy, Negarden st. with an attendance of 25. A miscellaneous program was given, followed by a social time. A pleasing chicken dinner brought the event to a close.

To Attend Inspection

A number of Salem women are planning to attend the annual inspection of the Ida McKinley chapter, Eastern Star, Saturday evening at Niles, to be conducted by Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas of Youngstown. This event, to be held in the new Masonic temple, dedicated Friday, will be preceded by a banquet at 5:30 o'clock.

Leap Year Club

Fancywork proved an interesting diversion and a lunch was served at a gathering of Leap Year club associates Thursday afternoon at which Mrs. R. K. Read was hostess at her home, Cleveland ave. Mrs. William Herrop, of Beloit, has invited the members to her home for a meeting in two weeks.

Needlecraft Club

Mrs. J. M. Hutchison was hostess to members of the Needlecraft club Wednesday afternoon at her home, East High st. When the members meet the first Thursday in October they will be guests of Mrs. William Glass, Woodland ave.

Martha Washington Club

Martha Washington club associates were entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. William Potts, Jennings ave. with the usual diversions interesting the members. A meeting in two weeks will be with Mrs. Samuel West, 73 North Union st.

Mrs. Laura Gerber, Greensburg, Pa., spent Thursday night and Friday with her cousin, Mrs. Amelia E. Walker, Franklin ave. enroute to Alliance to visit her sister, Mrs. Hiram Hyatt.

Mrs. A. R. Carr and Robert Carr of Waterloo, Ia., arrived here Thursday evening to visit his mother, Mrs. Samuel Schropfer, east of Salem. They made the trip by automobile.

Barthelmess Gives Screen His Greatest Photodrama in "Fury"

Perhaps no word in the dictionary has been quite so overworked, misused and abused as "Great." It is a word that has been applied indiscriminately to many motion pictures. Once in a great while—and in this instance it is very properly applied—a photograph justly deserves the appellation. Such a motion picture was "Fury," the first National attraction which began an engagement at the State theater last night. Replete with human interest, stirring with action, flavored with a heart touch that in one moment draws a tear and the next a laugh, this production, filmed under the direction of Henry King, is a chapter out of life itself—life of the rugged sort that stretches from the bounding main to Linnhouse, London, and Glasgow, Scotland. 223h

REALTY TRANSFERS

Mrs. Kate Manewal has sold a building lot in West School st. to Robert Amid Jr. who plans to erect a modern dwelling house there. R. C. Kridler made the transfer.

E. H. Althouse has purchased the garage owned by Emmett Morgan of Leontia located on East Pershing ave.

SMALL BEGINNINGS

A BIG RESULT

Many small subscriptions begin in a small way. Many a successful subscription has begun by using classified ad insertions in a modest way. These brought good returns, which enabled the business to be developed, and eventually large advertisements were profitably used. Intelligent use of the little ads in The Salem News will give the advertiser or reader with others.

DAMASCUS

While putting down the window at during the rainstorm, Mrs. Emanuel Grice met with a painful accident. The window glass broke and Mrs. Grice has done of her hands badly cut. Mrs. Herbert Haldy is visiting her sister in Greensburg. Redman, north of Salem. Miss Margaret Koehler of Edgewood, Pa., arrived here Friday morning. Miss Koehler is a teacher in the Damascus High school. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stacy, Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron, Mrs. Ed. Coggeshall and V. M. Stacy were Edgemoor visitors Friday. Rev. D. B. Cope recently assigned to the Methodist pastorate here, will assume charge of the church Sunday, while Rev. H. L. Peoples will assume his new pastorate at Doylestown, the former post of Rev. Cope.

She Didn't Know

He was a fragile youth, and didn't dance all the dances. "Let's sit it out," he said to his pretty partner.

"Where?" she asked. "On the stairs."

So they went up a little way and sat down.

"Why, what's the matter, Mr. Stackpole?" cried the girl. For the young man had risen hastily and was gasping for breath. He could not reply. His face was livid, and with one shaking hand he claved feebly at the tail of his coat.

"What kind of an attack is it?" she gasped.

At this question his voice returned. "What difference does that make?" he growled. Then, without a word of apology, he dashed up the stairs and flung himself into the men's cloak-room.

How was she to know it was an ordinary carpet tack that the man who convulsed the stairs had carelessly left standing on its head?

DRESS SALE

A Most Timely Opportunity In The Height of the Greatest Dress Season Ever Known!

Paris says Dresses—New York says Dresses. Every Fashion Center says Dresses. So Dresses it must be, and here they are. There isn't a style of fabric that you could name that isn't here, nor is there a price that you could name at which good dresses can be sold that is missing from this extraordinary display and sale of the season's finest dress, either silk, cloth or velvet.

Every single one eminently desirable—and you can be sure that the materials are good and the workmanship has been rigidly inspected, and that styles are new and "up to the minute" in line and trimmings. Yet in spite of their excellent qualities and expert fashioning prices are very modest. We especially urge you to see the many special groups.

300 Styles of Women's and Misses' Dresses at $12.95, $14.85, $19.75, $25, $29.75, $35, $39.50, $45, $49.50, $55 & $59

Women's New Tailored Wool Dresses in the Sale at $19.75, $25, $29.75, $39.50 up to $59

Coat dresses, tucked dresses, embroidered dresses. Black, navy and brown. Sizes 16 to 20, 36 to 50.

Fine Sample Frocks in the Better Dresses at $49.50

One look at the wonderful heavy qualities of silk will be ample proof of the value at this price. Save 25 to 33 1/3 per cent on many of these sample models.

$14.85 Buys Women's Silk and Cloth Dresses

Poirot twill, genuine tricot sham dresses, all silk crepe materials in a good variety of styles. Navy, brown and black. Sizes 16 to 20, 36 to 46.

Frocks at $12.95 for the School and College Girl

All wool French crepe frocks, especially suited to school or college girls. Navy, brown, tan and grey. Real $19.75 and $25.00 values. Priced for quick selling—12, 14, 16, 18, 20 years sizes.

Fine Sample Frocks in an Unusual Group at $39.50

One of a kind models, heavy lustrous charmeuse, canton crepe, crepe back satin and velvet, embroidered panels, beaded bodices, pleated skirts, effective and unusual drapings and trimmings.

25 Sample Dresses, Values Up to $39.50

Every woman should see this lot of wool and cloth dresses—every one a desirable style, mostly long sleeve straight line models. Specials purchased at a saving of 25 to 33 1/3 per cent.

Tennis Star Crosses Sea In 30-Foot Boat

Alain J. Gerbault

After crossing the ocean alone in a 30-foot cutter, built 32 years ago, coming through three raging hurricanes in 142 days, Alain J. Gerbault, French international tennis star, has reached New York in a semi-exhausted state. But he is already looking for a rather smaller boat to continue his state. He is already looking for a rather smaller boat to continue his single-handed tour of the world. He sailed from Cannes, France, on April 5, and landed at Fort Totten, L. I., after traversing 5,600 miles of ocean. He was often without sleep for four days at a time, and for 18 hours was unconscious from illness.

MIDDLETON

The Middleton Friends primary school opened on Monday. Lena Stanley of Mooreville, Ind., is in charge. She is a member of last year's graduating class of Friends Boarding school near Barnesville. Miss Stanley will board with Elizabeth Dingee.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Laughlin of Youngstown spent the week end with Mr. Laughlin's sister, Mrs. Howard Cope. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Cope and Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin drove to Mt. Jackson, Pa.

Willard and Mary Blackburn returned on Monday from a week spent in and near Marysville, O., where they visited Mrs. Blackburn's parents and attended the sale and delivery of peaches shipped to Delaware, O., by L. J. Kirk of this place.

Alice Binns of Winona spent the week end with her uncle, E. L. Cope, and her friend, Velma Hall.

Goer to Alabama
Anna Kirk is visiting in the neighborhood before going to Alabama to teach the primary department in a school for colored children. She goes under the auspices of the Friends Service committee of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Ernest Gustafson and daughter Betty of Columbiana spent a few days with Mrs. Howard Cope this week.

Jesse and Rebecca Meekel and daughters, Catherine and Grace, of Trumansburg, N. Y., left for their home on Monday after spending the week end with friends here. They were enroute home after attending the Yearly Meeting of Ohio Wilbur Friends held at Barnesville. Miss Grace is a member of the faculty of Cornell university and is also taking post graduate work.

Dr. and Elizabeth Backburn and Jane Cope of Salem spent Sunday afternoon as the guests of D. J. Kirk and family.

Anna and Elizabeth Morlan of Damascus, visited at the home of their uncle, Heald Edgerton, Sunday.

Lyda W. Blackburn is spending a few days this week with her sister, Anna Cooper and family.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (real oil).

The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 639 W. Lake st., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money, make $250 to $500 per month.

FARMER STILL LOOKING UP SAYS COLLEGE OFFICIAL

Ohio State Man Refutes The Charge Ags Are Turning Against Calling.

Columbus, Sept. 21.—From one aspect of the registration at Ohio State university for the autumn quarter which begins Oct. 1 University Examiner B. L. Stradley drew yesterday a conclusion of the charge frequently heard, that "the farmers of the country are discouraged and are turning against the college."

"There has been so much printed and said about the agricultural depression this year," Mr. Stradley said, "that we have noted especially the registration in the college of agriculture. This school draws its students from the families of farmers. If the farmers really were discouraged, and saw little future in farming, the most natural thing in the world would be for them to urge their sons to study some thing else."

"The farmers are not doing that," he continued, "for the registration this year is greater than that of last year and greater than that in 1921. Many more will enter before registration is completed and there are now 255 new students on the rolls, as compared with 247 new students this time last year and 252 in 1921.

In gauging conditions through the Middle West, the agricultural colleges are a most important key," Mr. Stradley said. "Farmers are no longer unschooled men. They are realizing more and more that education is as necessary to a farmer as it is to a lawyer. Moreover, they are sending their sons to study the farm, not to study Blackstone."

New Fall Coats

Both Sports and Dressy Styles

It's pleasant and interesting to choose a new fall coat from McCulloch's showing. The assortment is now at its very best—it's a good time to acquire a wealth of information as to what's going to be good for fall and winter.

The Sports Coats

The Sport Coats breeze in this season with fur collars to add to their comfort—a feature fair motorists, especially will be quick to appreciate. They are snappy, full swinging models in fleecy fabric. And such marvelous patterns are interesting as the coats themselves—phantom stripes, monotone stripes, broken plaids and decided plaids. Collars of shaggy furs top them, kit fox, wolf and beavers. Many of the materials in these coats hail from England. Priced at $16.50 to $35.00

Pile Fabric Coats and Wraps

What a joy it is to slip into one of these new coats or wraps whose big fur collars becomingly frame one's face, whose straight lined so flatter one's figure! Exquisite pile fabrics such as velvoria, gerona, rose de lane, take on an added richness through the lavish use of fur. Quite often these coats flare out below the knees into a circular flounce or series of flounces. Luxurious fur trimmings of grey squirrel, fox, beaver or visalia. A wonderful showing at

What The Scout
Campaign Means
To This Vicinity

Think what it means to the future of Salem for boys to grow up with that disposition to "do a good turn for a y." unselfishly to recognize the rights of others, to sympathize with those less fortunate and carry through their lives the good health that comes of having learned as scouts the value of wholesome clean living.

What They Think

"Give the Boy Scouts a chance to help themselves," says R. F. Fawcett. "I am heartily in favor of the Boy Scout movement and consider it a powerful influence for good," says W. P. Church.

"Give the boys a chance; they will be the men of affairs very soon. Our nation is depending on them," says C. M. Wilson.

"The Boy Scout movement builds character. Its worth cannot be estimated and it should have the support and encouragement of all who are interested in the future manhood of our city," says B. L. Flick.

Dollar Now Worth But Mere 65 Cents U. S. Report Shows

Farmers Dollar Worth Almost 75c But Is Higher Than Others.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The purchasing power of the American dollar now amounts to only 65 cents, the department of labor announced today in making public the results of a ten-year survey of the dollar's varying course.

The survey is based upon the fluctuations of the dollar's power from 1913 to 1923 and shows that at times the dollar has been able to purchase only 40 cents worth in American markets.

While the purchasing power of the dollar varied widely, at different periods between different groups of commodities, for all commodities it was equal to more than a dollar in most of 1914 and 1915, but after that it declined steadily in value until May 1920, when it equalled only 40 cents, survey stated.

In the second half of 1921, and the first part of 1922 it had advanced to 60 cents, but since that time it has again declined and stood at 65 cents in June, 1923.

As applied to farm products the purchasing power of the 1913 dollar sank below 50 cents during the closing months of 1917 and continued downward to January, 1920, when it equalled only 40 cents. It shot up to 85 in June 1921, and today in this group the average has been above 70 cents. In foodstuffs the low point of 40 cents was reached in May 1920, with rising buying power thereafter, the average today being 70 cents.

The dollar would purchase more than a dollar's worth of clothing in 1914 and most of 1915, but sank below 30 cents early in 1920. This year it has averaged about 50 cents.

The dollar's purchasing power has fluctuated more widely in the case of structural steel than of other building materials. In January, 1914, and again in 1915, the 1913 dollar had a buying power of $1.37, dwindling to 30 cents in June 1917. With the inauguration of price control as a war measure in 1917, it increased to 50 cents and except for a brief period in 1920, has fluctuated above that figure since.

Lumber, averaging $1.15 in the first half of 1915, fell to 27 cents early in 1920. It now averages about 45 cents. Brick, showing a range in the purchasing power of the dollar extending from $1.04 in 1915 to 34 cents in 1920, now averages above 45 cents.

In November 1914, the purchasing power of a dollar as applied to coke was $1.56. In August and September 1920, it was 16 cents. During this year the dollar has averaged a little more than one-third of its 1913 buying power in the purchase of coke.

Bituminous coal to a less extent shows the same variations as coke. From 1913 to the middle of 1916, the dollar averaged close to 100 cents in its purchasing power. During the first half of 1917 it was only 40 cents. Compared with 1913 the dollar this year has lost almost two-thirds of its buying power as applied to bituminous coal.

KIWANIS CLUB HAS MEETING

Leetonia, Sept. 21.—The Kiwanis club luncheon Tuesday evening was well attended and an unusual amount of interest displayed particularly in the splendid address made by Judge Gessner of Youngstown. Members of the Joe Williams post American Legion, of Leetonia, were honor guests of the club at this meeting.

Tag day for the Athletic club proved a financial success beyond expectation of all concerned. Two hundred and eighty-six dollars was the result with but five dollars difference in the amount of the two sides headed by Bernice Stambaugh and Gertrude Seha. The club is grateful for the hearty support of the citizens of Leetonia.

Mrs. Edith West of Salem attended the funeral of Mrs. Charles Bard on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Arvilla Stouffer of Columbiana visited her daughter, Tuesday.

Attends Convention

Merl Greenamyer of Pittsburg, has spent several days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Greenamyer Somer st., left Sunday morning for Chicago where he met officials of the American Railroad association. Together they left in their special car for the convention of the association at Denver. After the convention the party will visit Yellowstone park Grand Canon of Arizona and other points of interest enroute to the Pacific coast where they will spend some time before returning home.

Miss Dora Inman of Columbiana, who has spent the summer with her sister in New York was a Leetonia caller Tuesday.

Mrs. James Caldwell was a Columbiana visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Howard Holloway visited relatives in Columbiana Wednesday.

Is Nominated

Word was received by Miss Sue Bixler that her nephew, Mayor Frank Gilbert, has been nominated for a second term at Sharon, Pa. Mr. Gilbert is a nephew of Mrs. Harmon Kale of Salem.

Friends of Mrs. Clara Read of Greenville, Pa., formerly of Leetonia have received word of the critical illness of her husband who has been cared for at the hospital for five weeks with slight hope of his recovery.

Mrs. Charles Williams and little granddaughter were Salem visitors Wednesday.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN
Gives is Nature's Own

Ladies! • This Beats Cosmetics

GOOD health cannot be camouflaged by powder and rouge. The eyes will tell. That sparkle and clearness that denote good health will not be there if you are constipated. Mrs. Clara Proctor of Pottsville, Mich., had been told by doctors she had this and that disease, and one advised an operation, but she knew she had been constipated all her life so first tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. She avoided the operation and now feels better than she ever did. Likewise Mrs. William Appleton of Eddington, Pa., who was badly constipated and now looks her best again after using Syrup Pepsin.

Pepsin is than tablets, powders or pills, and without shock to the system.

Safe Family Laxative

Use it regularly a day before and a day after the periods. The gentle emptying of the bowels will give you relief, and lessen headaches and congestion. Take a spoonful at bed-time and see how much better you feel in the morning. It is a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics, and entirely safe not only for you but for the youngest child. Keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin constantly in the home for you or some other member of the family may need it any moment to relieve constipation, to break up fevers and colds, to clear up biliousness, indigestion, a pimple, a fever sore and other disturbances that show constipation.

COOLIDGE GIVES USUAL PLEDGES

PUBLIC SEEMS TO EXPECT THE PROMISE OF A "GENERAL WELFARE" POLICY.

ASKS PUBLIC CO-OPERATION

President Also Follows Precedent by Intimating That He Will Not Interfere With Congress, a Promise Not Always Easy to Keep.

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington.—The "great policy" of President Coolidge is the "great policy" of every other president of the United States since George Washington took the oath of office. The "great policy" is a general welfare policy.

It may seem curious that a president of the United States on entering office finds it necessary to tell the people that he is going to try to give them a good administration. It would seem that there is much which should be taken for granted, but nevertheless every president is called upon to outline a general welfare policy and a policy of promise of an attempt at well doing. President Coolidge is no exception. The President has permitted it to be known that he is earnestly desirous of obtaining public co-operation in furthering the welfare of the United States. The word co-operation here means, of course, that the President will do his part.

New some of the flippant ones say that President Coolidge might have established a precedent by refraining from making any promise of intended good behavior further than that embodied in the oath of office, which was administered to him as soon as it was known that he was to succeed to the presidency. However, the public expect the pledge of proper endeavor and therefore each incoming president seemingly feels called upon to declare,
"I'll do my level best."

Freedom for Congress Promised.

So far as the record runs, every president of the United States has made another promise, either directly or indirectly. This promise has been that he will in no wise attempt to force the hand or override the will of the legislative department of government. This, in brief, means that the White House will not interfere with congress.

It is hardly necessary, perhaps, to go back far into the past to point out instances of this specific promise making, although in every inaugural address the pledge has been made by suggestion. Former President Wilson was emphatic in his declaration that congress must be unimpeded in what it thought was its duty. President Harding said the same thing, but he said it between his election and his inauguration in a speech delivered in the United States senate, membership in which he held until the eve of his entrance into the White House.

Within a week the present administration has let it be known that congress can be depended upon or ought to be depended upon to do the things proper in the sight of the people.
There was the sharp suggestion of a policy of non-interference by the executive.

What are the facts in these various cases? It is not at all likely that any president would have admitted that he had attempted to interfere with the will of congress, except in the form of a legislative veto of legislation. The fact is, however, that detailed history of every president has attempted in a way to move a sometimes reluctant congress to do his will. It probably always will be so, because the temperament of congress on some legislative matters is to break up into factions, each faction perhaps being willing that certain laws should be enacted, but each desiring that it shall be put into the form that it wishes. The result of this is that a president, as the head of an administration, and also as the head of a political party, finds that the legislation which he has recommended is meeting with all kinds of obstacles which are created sometimes for the purpose of pleasing a small section of the people, while displeasing the rest of them.

Big Stick Sometimes Needed.

It is in times like this that the president finds he must use the big stick. Of course, he does not call it a big stick nor do his friends so call it; but he makes appeal to party loyalty and sometimes points out sharply what he considers to be the loyal duty of his party men who have divided into factional fields.

If President Harding had lived it was regarded as probable that he would be compelled to use all his persuasive powers and, perhaps, his punitive powers in an endeavor to secure sanction for his plan for American membership in the world court. He was accused of using the big stick in ship subsidy matters and with one or two others which he considered to be of legislative moment.

It seems to be the feeling in Washington today that President Coolidge will allow congress to work its own will in the matter of American membership in the world court. It is believed that he will urge the Harding proposal, but that he will not attempt to use big stick methods to secure what he wants.

SPARE THE HAMMER AT GRID CONTESTS SAYS COACH WILCE

Be Tolerant When Mistakes Are Made Wilce Urges Spectators.

Columbus, Sept. 21.—Many a football player is even credit due another. If you will take the word of Dr. J. W. Wilce, for 10 years the mentor of Ohio State teams which have won three Big Ten championships in that decade.

"A strong tackle may support a weaker guard or end," he points out. "Strong guards naturally help the play of tackles or center. A strong end may support an average tackle. Think of some of these things in watching a game. When a play goes for a good gain over one position, do not criticize too strongly. The defensive player may have been 'defeated' or he may have been playing a little out of his own position trying to help a teammate. Some players are too ambitious and try to cover too much territory. Teams frequently assign two or three men to block an especially strong player. This is a compliment to the individual even though he is completely taken out of the play."

One defensive player, Dr. Wilce believes, should "defeat" or handle one offensive player. He frequently held his own on the defensive, he says, against the combined efforts of two offensive players. It is expecting a great deal, however, he adds, to ask one defensive player to handle three players sent against him.

Take A Chance
"A player sometimes knifes through the opposing line and tackles the man with the ball for a loss," he points out. "We hear cheers."

"He tries the same thing again and a long gain is made through the hole he left in the defensive line. We hear groans or jeers. Be tolerant."

"If all players waited on the line on every play, or 'knifed' through the opposing line on each play, the offense would know what plays would gain best. The good linemen varies his play and occasionally takes chances and plays a hunch. If he wins, he is a wonder. If he misjudges only once, every second guesser is ready to tell him exactly how he should have done it. It's the way of the world. Remember we all make mistakes. Be tolerant."

This is one of many phases of football from the spectator's standpoint treated in "How to Enjoy Football," a small volume to be off the press next week and written by Dr. Wilce and L. W. St. John, athletic director at Ohio State.

Lisbon Grigger Gets Fracture At Drill

Lisbon, Sept. 21.—Kenneth Neigh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neigh of East High st., a candidate for the position at right end on the Lisbon High football team, suffered a broken ankle in a practice scrimmage Wednesday. It was thought at first that he had suffered a severe sprain but when the injured member did not yield to treatment, a physician was called in and found that a fracture of one of the small bones of the ankle. He will be out of the lineup for some time.

SALEM CANDIDATES LOOK PROMISING

Wooster, Sept. 21.—George Bunn and John Siskowic of Salem, are candidates for regular berths on the Wooster college football team this season. The former is being tried as one of the ends. Although competition is keen in the backfield here Siskowic is making a good showing as one of the backs.

Forty candidates, including seven letter men, answered the call for varsity football this season. From that squad Coach Boies must find men to rebuild the line of the Steam Rollers which was depleted by graduation. Backfield prospects are very bright but the line question is the hardest task which Coach Boies has faced since he became athletic mentor at Wooster.

CARNEGIE TECH PLAYS SATURDAY

Pittsburg, Sept. 21.—Carnegie Tech opens its football season next Saturday, meeting the University of Toledo in the Tech bowl.

This game takes the place of the Muskingum college game originally scheduled, but cancelled at the instigation of Muskingum authorities because the rules of the Ohio conference forbid early practice to start before Sept. 18, and it was feared the team would not be in good enough condition to face the Tartan plaid.

Advisory Coach Wally Steffen has been here since Labor day, in charge of a squad of 50 candidates, including a dozen freshmen. Two practice periods a day had been held and while the usual number of injuries cropped out, the team will be in fairly good shape for the opening game.

BENNY LEONARD PREPARES RETURN TO THE FOOTLIGHTS

Bring 'Em On Or I'll Not Fight Any This Winter, He Says.

New York, Sept. 21.—Finding the goose picked clean by the Dempsey-Firpo business, Benny Leonard announced that he is preparing to return to the stage where footlights shine and footwork is valued at $4,000 the individual week. That in the long run, if any, is to be preferred over box fighting in Benny's estimation. It is certainly to be preferred over his recent experience with Johnny Dundee, in which he spent $2,500 for training expenses and did not get a buffalo nickel at the gate because there wasn't any.

The Leonard-Dundee bout is cold coffee, now and forever henceforth. It looked good for a cut of several hundreds of thousands but Dundee jostled the bean pot in collaboration with Kid Wagner in Philadelphia and an advance sale of exactly $28,000 remained as was. In fact we have been given to understand that many early buyers demanded the return of their money.

Under such harrowing conditions, it is not surprising that the promoter declared Dundee void. A "house" of $28,000 or less would have looked very silly sitting in the Yankee stadium. Therefore the stage is the thing. Mr. Shakespeare and our champion being in perfect accord on that point.

The show with which our Mr. Leonard will identify himself is scheduled to open in Chicago "for a long run." This statement, of course, is unnecessary. All shows open for long runs. This one will return to New York after it has begun to weary the western taste, but in the meantime Benjamin wishes it known that he is quite disposed to swing a fist, for a consideration, with anyone who cares to be accommodated.

"They had better come on and fight or I will leave them on the outside looking in," quoth our Mr. Leonard. "I am anxious to meet all contenders for the next two months but what I want in particular is a shot at Mickey Walker and the welterweight title. Charley White? I'll fight him any day."

"But if these challengers do not get busy soon, I will leave them flat for the stage. As soon as the winter sets
